The Bay Area GIS Survey is a collaborative effort of the Metropolitan Transportation Commission (MTC), and the Bay Area Automated Mapping Association (BAAMA). It also supported by the GIS Center (GISC) at U.C. Berkeley, the Association of Bay Area Governments (ABAG), and the District 4 office of the California Department of Transportation (CalTrans). Most of the funding for the project came from in-kind staff time of MTC and the GISC. Additional funding was provided by a National Spatial Data Infrastructure (NSDI) Cooperative Agreements Program (CAP) grant from the Federal Geographic Data Committee (FGDC).

MTC is the transportation planning, coordinating and financing agency for the nine-county San Francisco Bay Area. More information is available at www.mtc.ca.gov.

BAAMA is a non-profit, professional organization that strives to serve the educational, networking, data exchange/sharing and related needs of Geographic Information System (GIS) professionals in the Bay Area. More information is available at www.baama.org.

NOTE: the information in this report is intended to foster regional GIS coordination and data sharing/exchange in the Bay Area. It is not intended to be a resource for GIS consultants, vendors or other organizations to conduct unsolicited marketing campaigns and related activities. Any use of this information for unsolicited “for-profit” activities is expressly forbidden.

Introduction

Overview

The purpose of the Bay Area GIS Survey is to build the foundation for GIS data sharing/exchange and metadata awareness/usage in the San Francisco Bay Area (Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, Napa, San Francisco, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Solano and Sonoma Counties). Neighboring jurisdictions were also welcome and encouraged to participate, as did the City of Santa Cruz.

The foundation of the project was a comprehensive GIS survey that was made available in both a printed and on-line format. The survey asked respondents to tell us who the primary GIS contact person is within their organization and document a few, basic metadata descriptors for GIS data they create, maintain or are responsible for. The survey also asked if they create metadata and under what conditions they are able to share or exchange the data. Finally, the survey asked respondents to briefly identify their major GIS applications and GIS-related technology that they utilize. To encourage data sharing/exchange, the metadata descriptors and GIS contact information from the surveys are being uploaded to a National Spatial Data Infrastructure (NSDI) metadata catalog. Also, workshops are being planned to promote the use and maintenance of the metadata.

Due to an extensive outreach and promotion effort, over 100 individuals completed the survey. The majority of the respondents are employed by municipal governments. Other responses were received from counties, regional government agencies, transportation agencies (i.e. transit operators and congestion management agencies), state governments, federal governments, non-profit organizations, educational institutions, and consultants.

Deliverable Products

The information gathered on the surveys is summarized in the following deliverable products, which will be distributed to all respondents and posted on BAAMA's web site (www.baama.org).

Bay Area GIS Survey: Summary Report - presents detailed background information about the project, a statistical analysis of the information gathered on all surveys, and a summary of the GIS data documented by all survey respondents. To provide context, the Summary Report includes a brief history of GIS and an explanation of metadata.

Bay Area GIS Survey: Detailed Results - presents all of the raw, detailed information that was gathered on all of the surveys. This information is presented in individual tables that were created for each survey respondent. The tables contain respondents' answers to all survey questions and describe the GIS data they documented. The tables are sorted by organization and department name.

Bay Area GIS Survey: GIS Contacts (this document) - presents only the contact information (i.e. phone, fax, e-mail, etc.) for all survey respondents. This information is sorted by type of organization to make it easy to locate a GIS contact for a specific organization (see Table of Contents).

Upload to CERES Metadata Catalog

To make the metadata (i.e. data documentation) captured on all of the surveys useful to a wide audience, the brief metadata descriptors and GIS contact information from the surveys are being uploaded to the state's Environmental Information Catalog (<http://ceres.ca.gov/catalog/>), which is part of the California Environmental Resources Evaluation System (CERES). This will create a "starter metadata catalog entry" for survey respondents who are encouraged to maintain this metadata over time.

CERES is an information system developed by the California Resources Agency (<http://ceres.ca.gov/>) to facilitate access to a variety of electronic data describing California's rich and diverse environments. The goal of CERES is to improve environmental analysis and planning by integrating natural and cultural resource information from multiple contributors and by making it available and useful to a wide variety of users.

CERES' Environmental Information Catalog serves as an online directory for reporting and discovery of information resources for California. It also functions as a clearinghouse node of the National Spatial Data Infrastructure (NSDI). It has been developed through a collaborative effort with the California Geographic Information Association (CGIA), the California Resources Agency and the Federal Geographic Data Committee (FGDC).

GIS Contacts

This section presents only the contact information (i.e. phone, fax, e-mail, etc) for all survey respondents. This information is sorted by type of organization to make it easy to locate a GIS contact for a specific organization. The organization categories include:

- Cities
- Counties
- Regional Agencies (includes regional transportation agencies)
- State Agencies
- Federal Agencies
- Transportation Agencies (public transit and congestion management/sales tax agencies only)
- Non-Profit Organizations
- Education/Research Institutions
- Utilities
- Private Organizations

In addition to the individuals and organizations listed in this report, there are many others in the Bay Area who use GIS. But, as stated above, this report only lists information for those individuals who completed the Bay Area GIS Survey.

NOTE: the information in this report is intended to foster regional GIS coordination and data sharing/exchange in the Bay Area. It is not intended to be a resource for GIS consultants, vendors or other organizations to conduct unsolicited marketing campaigns and related activities. Any use of this information for unsolicited “for-profit” activities is expressly forbidden.

GIS Contacts: Cities

The table below lists all cities and towns in the 9-county Bay Area (plus the City of Santa Cruz), and indicates which of these cities completed the Bay Area GIS Survey. The year 2000 population is provided to illustrate that, in most cases, the cities that did not respond are medium to small sized cities.
